1-My parents had a very different upbringing to what I have today. They were from Ireland and grew up in the middle of the countryside . I live in Birmingham , with peer pressure , school rules and lots of other things to deal with . I think I have a much tougher life than they had .

2- Times have changed and we have a lot of responsibility as teenagers , and we have to act like adults .It depends on where you have grown up and who you hang around with . There isn't a definite age when most people start drinking alcohol or try drugs . I am nearly 16 years old and I have never tried any , but I know plenty of people who have . This really depends on who you hang around with and how much willpower you have to say no .

3- I think that a lot of teenagers are discriminated against wrongly by adults . However most of them have part-time jobs which creates responsibility and the need to behave in an adult way . I have been working since I was about 13 , but most teens start at around 15 .

4-We need to have a level of trust put in us . We need to feel wanted and important , and not constantly targeted and victimized by the media. After all , if the media is constantly attacking teens and branding them as thugs , then that's the way we will act .

1- There was a girl driving along I-70 on the way back to Colorado after visiting her relatives in Illinois . It was about 1:00am and it started to rain when she realized her car was almost out of petrol . She saw a sign for a petrol station about 3 miles ahead , so she breathed a sigh of relief . But when she got there , she noticed that it was one of those old petrol stations . She was scared to stop , but she really had no other choice . As she pulled in , an old man with a disfigured face rushed to her through the rain . He put the pump in the tank and asked for her credit card . She handed it to him over the top of the window and he ran back inside .
