

The Text

In this article, Monica Ali, 37, who has contributed a chapter entitled "Brick Lane" to the book Weekenders: Adventures in Calcutta, talks to Ann McFerran from The Sunday Times .

-1- GOWING UP in Bolton, as part of an immigrant community- the daughter of an English mother and a Bangladeshi father- I didn't really go on holiday. Later, when I was a teenager, I'd tag along with some English school friends going on summer hols with their families to Lake District, or Whales, or even as far afield as the Dordogne.

-2- But at university and in my twenties I went to most countries in Europe, as well as to India and the USA. I'd go somewhere different each time, sometimes on my own, sometimes with a friend. And I wanted to learn as much about a place as possible -reading about it and doing a lot of sightseeing, so I'd really get a sense of people and the culture.

-3- Mostly I'd splash out on really nice holidays for a few nights. Egypt was particularly thrilling; because I'd seen so many pictures of the pyramids at school, I almost couldn't believe I was really seeing them. We also stayed by the Red Sea, and then took trips to the desert -we even spent a night camping in the moonscape.

The Sunday Times -August 222004. (Adapted)

-4- Istanbul, too, was stunning. All those clichés about how East meets West are true. I loved everything about it, and especially the souks. I hate shopping in England, but Istanbul, with its rugs and its jewelry, is different matter.

-5- After I graduated I went to India with a friend for several months. As with the pyramids, I found that actually seeing the TajMahal is so astonishing, it makes you catch your breath. We did long overnight train journeys to Calcutta and Orissa, and what's so fantastic about those train journeys is how you can see the whole Indian life style from the train: people getting up in the morning, washing, feeding their children, conducting their entire lives. It's a complete sightseeing experience in itself

-6- Just before Brick Lane was published, I wanted to go back to Bangladesh with my husband to see where I was born. But I couldn't get a visa -it was a big blow at the time, but I'm still hoping that I'll be able to someday. A two-week holiday in Cape Town was the consolation prize. I was very excited about going to Africa, but Cape Town didn't really seem like Africa at all -more like an enormous theme park for white people. Of course, parts of America are like that, too. Cape Town is a place of extremes, of the very rich and the very poor, but the scenery is immensely awe-inspiring.

School: Secondary School of Jerissa	First Term	School year: 2011 /2012
Date :December 2011	English	Teachers : Mrs. Lamloumi, Miss Messaoudi, Miss Naimi
Duration : 2 hours	End of Term Test	Classes : 4 th forms Arts
Name :	Surname:.....	Class: Mark :
N°:/40-/20

Reading Comprehension: 15 marks

1 Tick (✓) the sentence that best states the main idea of the text: (1 mark)

- In this text Monica is
- ♣ recounting her holidaying experiences.
 - ♣ recalling her school memories.
 - ♣ complaining about her holidaying experiences.

2 Correct the following false statements with details from the text: (4 marks)

- ♣ Monica would go on holidays just for pleasure. (prg.2)
➤ _____
- ♣ Monica did not know about the pyramids before visiting them. (prg.3)
➤ _____
- ♣ Train journeys are not interesting. (prg.5)
➤ _____
- ♣ Monica fulfilled her dream of visiting her mother country. (prg.6)
➤ _____

3 Fill in the blanks with adjectives from the text to complete the paragraph below: (4 marks)

Monica described the countries she visited excitedly. She found Egyptwith its pyramids. Istanbul wasthanks to its souks. While Tejmahal in India was Finally Cape Town waswith its extremes.

4 What do the underlined words in the text refer to: (2 marks)

- ♣ it (prg. 5) → _____
- ♣ Brick Lane (prg. 6) → _____

5 Circle the definition that best explains the following words from the text:(2 marks)

- Be keen on
- ♣ Splash out on Spend money on
 - Depend on
 - Understand deeply
 - ♣ Tag along with Study hard
 - Follow closely

6 Paraphrase the following sentence from the text in your own words: (1 mark)

<< A two-week holiday in Cape Town was the consolation prize. >>

Give a personal justified answer to the following question: (1 mark)

Who do you like to travel with? Why?

Language: 10 marks

Put the bracketed words in the right tense and/or form: 4 marks

The Carthage Film Festival is a biannual October film festival hosted by the government of Tunisia. The festival 1(create) _____ in 1996 by the Tunisian Minister of Culture to showcase films from the Maghreb, Africa, and the Middle East. In order to be eligible for 2(compet) _____, a film must have a director of African or Middle Eastern nationality, and have been produced at 3(little) _____ two years before entry. The Tunisian Culture Minister 4(consider) _____ the event a means of communication between Arab and African cinema. More than 300cinema5(expert) _____, actors and fans attend the event. The audience 6(eager) _____ attend the festival, although they desert theaters throughout the year, they7(live) _____ and grown with the festival. For the rest of the year, movies are commercial and of very8(lowness) _____ quality.

Fill in the blanks with words from the list below, be careful there are two extra words: 4 marks roughly - refurbishment - plus - residence - daily - former - for - finest - takes - rebuilt

Buckingham palace is London's best known tourist attraction. As the official London 1 _____ of the queen, it flies her Majesty's personal standard. The Palace State Rooms are open 2 _____ from early August to early October. 3 _____ the rest of the year, the spectacular ceremony of changing the Guard 4 _____ place at 11.00 every day in the height of summer. Even if you miss the Palace opening, you can still see the Queen's glorious art collection one of the 5 _____ in the world. The Queen's Gallery reopened after 6 _____ in 2002, with even more rarely seen works on show. The Queen, a great lover of horses, also opens her Royal Mews * to the public. The Mews, 7 _____ by Nash in the 1820s, contains some of the finest working stables in existence. The magnificent, gilded, and polished state carriages and coaches are on show, 8 _____ horses and equipage.

Match the sentence parts from "A" with those from "B" to get a coherent paragraph. Write your answers in the space provided: 3 marks

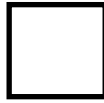

A	B
1- Celine Dion is the singer	a- Her parents' restaurant
2- Because she sang the theme	b- That Celine eventually married
3- Celine was born	c- Is famous all round the world
4- She sang for the first time in	d- On the 30 th of March
5- Rene Angelil was the man	e- To the film Titanic
6- Her song for the film Beauty and the Beast	f- Received an Academy award and a Grammy award

1	2	3	4	5	6

Writing: 15 marks:

1- Guided writing: Develop the following notes into full sentences to get a coherent paragraph about El Kef area: 5 marks

- El Kef / situate/ northwest /Tunisia
- First / know/ Sicca
- El Kef/ home /to / number /edifices / important buildings
- Museum/ popular arts and traditions/ retrace/social and cultural habit/region
- The city/ host / number of festival/ BouMakhlouf Festival/ Mayou Festival/ The Saliha Festival

Adherence to content: 2 →
 Language/ grammar : 2 →
 Writing mechanics :1 →

2- Free Writing: 10 marks

Space tourism this type of tourism? attitude, and support recommended.

is one of the newest trends in tourism. What do you think of Write a 12 line argumentative essay in which you show your attitude, and support recommended. The use of linkers is highly

Adherence to content: 4 →

Language/ grammar : 4 →

Writing mechanics :2 →

The Text

In this article, Monica Ali, 37, who has contributed a chapter entitled "Brick Lane" to the book Weekenders: Adventures in Calcutta, talks to Ann McFerran from The Sunday Times

-1- GOWING UP in Bolton, as part of an immigrant community- the daughter of an English mother and a Bangladeshi father- I didn't really go on holiday. Later, when I was a teenager, I'd tag along with some English school friends going on summer hols with their families to Lake District, or Whales, or even as far afield as the Dordogne.

-2- But at university and in my twenties I went to most countries in Europe, as well as to India and the USA. I'd go somewhere different each time, sometimes on my own, sometimes with a friend. And I wanted to learn as much about a place as possible -reading about it and doing a lot of sightseeing, so I'd really get a sense of people and the culture.

-3- Mostly I'd splash out on really nice holidays for a few nights. Egypt was particularly thrilling; because I'd seen so many pictures of the pyramids at school, I almost couldn't believe I was really seeing them. We also stayed by the Red Sea, and then took trips to the desert -we even spent a night camping in the moonscape.

-4- Istanbul, too, was stunning. All those clichés about how East meets West are true. I loved everything about it, and especially the souks. I hate shopping in England, but Istanbul, with its rugs and its jewelry, is different matter.

-5- After I graduated I went to India with a friend for several months. As with the pyramids, I found that actually seeing the Taj Mahal is so astonishing, it makes you catch your breath. We did long overnight train journeys to Calcutta and Orissa, and what's so fantastic about those train journeys is how you can see the whole Indian life style from the train: people getting up in the morning, washing, feeding their children, conducting their entire lives. It's a complete sightseeing experience in itself

-6- Just before Brick Lane was published, I wanted to go back to Bangladesh with my husband to see where I was born. But I couldn't get a visa -it was a big blow at the time, but I'm still hoping that I'll be able to some day. A two-week holiday in Cape Town was the consolation prize. I was very excited about going to Africa, but Cape Town didn't really seem like Africa at all -more like an enormous theme park for white people. Of course, parts of America are like that, too. Cape Town is a place of extremes, of the very rich and the very poor, but the scenery is immensely awe-inspiring.

The Sunday Times -August 22,2004. (Adapted)

School: Secondary School	First Term	School year: 2011 /2012
Date : December 20	English	Mrs. Iamloumi, Miss Messaoudi, Miss Naimi
Duration : 2 hours	Test	Classes : 4 th forms M, Tech., Sc., Inf. Tech.
Name : Surname:.....	Class:	Mark :
N°:/40-
	/20

Reading Comprehension: 12 marks

1 Tick (✓) the sentence that best states the main idea of the text: (1 mark)

- In this text Monica is ♣recounting her holidaying experiences
- ♣Recalling her school memories
- ♣Complaining about her holidaying experiences

2 Correct the following false statements: (3 marks)

- ♣ Monica would go on holidays just for pleasure (prg.2)
➤ _____
- ♣ Train journeys are not interesting (prg.5)
➤ _____
- ♣ Monica fulfilled her dream of visiting her mother country (prg.6)
➤ _____

3 Fill in the blanks with adjectives from the text to complete the paragraph below: (4 marks)

Monica described the countries she visited excitedly. She found Egyptwith its pyramids. Istanbul wasthanks to its souks. While TejMahal in India was Finally Cape Town waswith its extremes.

4 What do the underlined words in the text refer to: (1 mark)

- ♣ it (prg. 5) → _____

5 Circle the definition that best explains the following word from the text: (1 mark)

- ♣ Tag along with
 - Understand deeply
 - Study hard

Follow closely

6 Paraphrase the following sentence from the text in your own words: (1 mark)

<< A two-week holiday in Cape Town was the consolation prize. >>

7 Give a personal justified answer to the following question: (1 mark)

Who do you like to travel with? Why?

Language: 6 marks

8 Put the bracketed words in the right tense and/ form: 3 marks

The Carthage Film Festival is a biannual October film festival hosted by the government of Tunisia. The festival 1(create) _____ in 1996 by the Tunisian Minister of Culture to showcase films from the Maghreb, Africa, and the Middle East. In order to be eligible for 2(competete) _____, a film must have a director of African or Middle Eastern nationality, and have been produced at 3(little) _____ two years before entry. The Tunisian Culture Minister considers the event a means of communication between Arab and African cinema. More than 300 cinema 4(expert) _____, actors and fans attend the event. The audience 5(eager) _____ attend the festival, although they desert theaters throughout the year, they 6(live) _____ and grown with the festival. For the rest of the year, movies are commercial and of very low quality.

9 Fill in the blanks with words from the list below, be careful there are two extra words: 3 marks

Roughly- plus - residence - daily - former- finest - takes - rebuilt

Buckingham palace is London's best known tourist attraction. As the official London 1 _____ of the queen, it flies her Majesty's personal standard. The Palace State Rooms are open 2 _____ from early August to early October. For the rest of the year, the spectacular ceremony of changing the Guard 3 _____ place at 11.00 every day in the height of summer. Even if you miss the Palace opening, you can still see the Queen's glorious art collection one of the 4 _____ in the world. The Queen's Gallery reopened after refurbishment in 2002, with even more rarely seen works on show. The Queen, a great lover of horses, also opens her Royal Mews * to the public. The Mews, 5 _____ by Nash in the 1820s, contains some of the finest working stables in existence. The magnificent, gilded, and polished state carriages and coaches are on show, 6 _____ horses and equipage.

Writing: 12 marks:

1- Guided writing: Complete the following conversation with the appropriate utterances to make it coherent: 4 marks

- Peter: Do you want to see the pictures of my holiday in Italy?
- Jane: Certainly. _____?
- Peter: Ah! The holiday was great! The food was great! But the traffic was terrible.
- Jane: _____?
- Peter: Those Italians are crazy drivers.
- Jane: Did you visit the leaning tower of Pisa?
- Peter: _____. We even climbed to the top.
- Jane: Incredible! That's a photo of the Arno River in Florence.
- Peter: _____. It is the Arno River, and these are some beautiful old medieval buildings.

2- Free Writing: 8 marks

You read an ad about a package holiday organized by Omega Tours, a Tunisian travel agency. You would like to travel to Paris and want further information about the holiday before taking a decision. Write a letter to the agency asking for clarifications.

PARIS
IN THE
THE SPRING

ONCE
IN A
A LIFETIME

BIRD
IN THE
THE HAND

Omega Tours
Okba Street, 82
Belvedere, Tunis

Dear sir/Madam,

Yours truely.

Adherence to content: 3→

Language/ grammar : 3 →

Writing mechanics :2 →