THE TEXT

1. When Betty Hastens decided she wanted her high school diploma, she was already 85 years old. According to Paul Parker, Director of Washington Holmes Technical Center, Betty's daughter tried to talk her out of it, but she was determined. In only one year, she reached her goal and passed her General Educational Development (GED) exam.

2. Betty Hastens enrolled in the Adult Education program at the age of 85 in August 1999, at Washington Holmes Technical Center in Chipley, Florida. Betty was more than 20 years older than any of the teachers or students, but age was never an issue with her. Mr. Parker related that she was eager to learn and was a perfectionist in everything she did.

3. In April 2000, she was recognized as student of the year for Adult Education at the Annual Open House Awards Ceremony at the Technical Center. She took her GED exam at the age of 86. Betty did not slow down. The very afternoon she completed her GED test, she returned to class to continue working. The next day, she started volunteering in the Adult Education program by helping anyone and everyone who needed help.

4. Betty is in the parking before most of the stuff each morning with a smile on her face and eager to go to work. Betty works with students of all ages, races, backgrounds and academic skills. She never slows down.

5. Betty is up and moving, going from one student to another all day. If there is a job to be done, Betty is willing and able, and it will be done.
